An adaptation of Toren C and Working Girls

Complexe G is about everyday life at a company that employs six women with rather unusual behaviours. There is Karine, the sadistic boss; Nathalie, her assistant, who is also a mom and has trouble balancing work with her family life; H el ene, who is unattractive, depressed, and neurotic; Sarah, the nymphomaniac; and young M egan and M eghan, the unwelcoming, undoubted lazy receptionists.

Each episode explores a topic through several scenes drawn from work life, lasting 30 seconds to three minutes; you'll watch our protagonists experience misfortunes, a lot of awkwardness, and simply absurd situations.

Complexe G is the Quebec version of a refreshing Dutch comedy series entitled Toren C and its French adaptation, Working Girls. Qu eb eComm holds the series' adaptation rights in Canada.
