

The BOYS

A COMEDY ABOUT FRIENDSHIP, LIFE, LOVE, HOCKEY ... AND BEER.

For eleven guys, Monday is their favorite day of the week – not because they love their jobs that much – no, because Monday is hockey night. Every Monday, these eleven part time gladiators, pull on, with pride and some difficulty, a jersey emblazoned with their team crest – The Boys – the name of their beer league hockey team. And though these men haven't been boys for years, when they hit the ice, they become young again (in their hearts if not in their bodies) and live the boyhood fantasy of scoring the winning goal in the Stanley Cup Finals, or their Beer League Cup Final, anyway.

Here are the stories of these old-timers, who continue to play “the world's most beautiful game” at age 25, 35, or 50 and wouldn't trade for anything the chance to participate in their weekly hockey game where they can dream of being the Wayne Gretzky that they never were. Outside the rink, these guys are very much different but the locker room is the greatest equalizer and whether they are doctors, mechanics, accountants, dealers or avoiding work, when they are on this team they are judged by their talent only and nothing else. As their coach Stan would say, these guys have the puck tattooed on their hearts, and he's right, these guys live, breathe, eat and drink hockey.

After the game, The Boys head back to Vicky's Bar, to down a pitcher of brew or two. Vicky's is where they hang out, argue, bitch, complain, throw fists and maybe even hug and make up.
